REPORT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

The Board of Directors and Stockholders
Cymac Holdings Corporation

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Cymac Holdings Corporation (the Company), which comprise the statements of financial position as at December 31, 2022 and 2021, and the statements of income, statements of equity and statements of cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2022 and 2021, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards for Small Entities (PFRS for SEs).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with Philippine Standards on Auditing (PSA). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants in the Philippines (Code of Ethics) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audits of the financial statements in the Philippines, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements, and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with PFRS for SEs, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with PSA will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with PSA, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

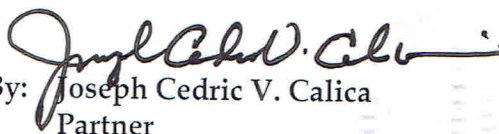

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information for the year ended December 31, 2022 required by the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) as disclosed in Note 14 of the financial statements is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of financial statements prepared in accordance with PFRS for SEs. Such supplementary information is the responsibility of the management. The supplementary information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2022 AND 2021

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

Corporate Information

Cymac Holdings Corporation (the Company) was incorporated in the Philippines and registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission on October 16, 2013 with registration number CS201320051. The Company was organized to invest in, purchase or otherwise acquire and own, hold, use, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, exchange or otherwise dispose of personal property of every kind and description. Provided that the corporation shall not solicit, accept, or take investments/placement from the public neither shall it issue investment contracts.

The Company's registered office is located at G/F MTE Building, 2735 Zenaida Street, Barangay Poblacion, Makati City.

Approval of Financial Statements

The financial statements of the Company as at and for the year ended December 31, 2022 (including the comparative financial statements as at and for the period ended December 31, 2021) were authorized for issue by the Company's Board of Directors (BOD) on March 30, 2023.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The significant accounting policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are summarized below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented unless otherwise stated.

Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements

a. Statement of Compliance with the Philippine Financial Reporting Standard for Small Entities (PFRS for SEs)

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with PFRS for Small Entities (PFRS for SEs). PFRS for SEs is adopted by the Financial Reporting Standards Council (FRSC) and approved by the Philippine Board of Accountancy (BOA).

The financial statements have been prepared using the measurement bases specified by PFRS for SEs for each type of assets, liabilities, income and expense. The measurement bases are more fully described in the accounting policies in the succeeding pages.

b. Presentation of Statement of Income and Statement of Changes in Equity

The Company opted to present a separate statement of income and a separate statement of changes in equity even when the changes to equity during the years presented arise only from profit or loss.

c. Functional and Presentation Currency

These financial statements are presented in Philippine pesos, the Company's functional and presentation currency, and all values represent absolute amounts except when otherwise indicated.

Items included in the financial statements of the Company are measured using its functional currency. Functional currency is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates.

Cash

Cash includes cash on hand, savings and demand deposits and short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Trade Receivables

Trade receivables are initially recognized at transaction cost and subsequently measured at an undiscounted amount of cash or other consideration expected to be received, less any allowance for impairment losses.

At the end of each financial reporting period, the carrying amounts of receivables are specifically reviewed to determine whether there is any objective evidence that the amounts are not recoverable. An estimate for impairment loss is made when a collection of the full amount is no longer probable. The related impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss. Bad debts are written off when identified.

Prepayment and Other Assets

Prepayment and other assets pertaining to other resources controlled by the Company as a result of past events. It is recognized in the financial statements when it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the Company and the asset has a cost or value that can be measured reliably.

Prepayment and other assets are recognized and measured at transaction costs or at the amount of cash paid. Subsequently, prepayment is charged to expense as they are consumed in operations or expire after the passage of time. Other recognized assets of similar nature, where future economic benefits are expected to flow to the Company beyond one year after the end of the reporting period or in the normal operating cycle of the business, if longer, are classified as non-current assets.

Payables

Payables are recognized initially at the transaction price and subsequently measured at undiscounted amount of cash or other consideration expected to be paid.

Payables are classified as current liabilities when these are expected to be paid within 12 months after the end of the financial reporting period or the Company has no unconditional right to defer settlement for at 12 months at the end of the financial reporting period.

Payables are derecognized from the statement of financial position only when the obligations are extinguished either through discharge, cancellation or expiration.

Provisions and Contingencies

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation, either legal or constructive, as a result of a past event, it is probable that a transfer of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and the amount can be reliably estimated.

Provisions are measured at the present value of the amount expected to be required to settle the obligation using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the obligation. The increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as an interest expense.

In those cases where the possible outflow of economic resources as a result of present obligations is considered improbable or remote, or the amount to be provided for cannot be measured reliably, no liability is recognized in the financial statements. Similarly, possible inflows of economic benefits to the Company that does not yet meet the recognition criteria of an asset are considered contingent assets, hence, are not recognized in the financial statements. On the other hand, any reimbursement that the Company can be virtually certain to collect from a third party with respect to the obligation is recognized as a separate asset not exceeding the amount of the related provision.

Revenue and Expense Recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that the revenue can be reliably measured; it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company; and the costs incurred or to be incurred can be measured reliably. The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognized:

- (a) Rendering of services - Revenue from rendering services is recognized as the control transfers at the point in time with the customer. Invoices for management services are due upon receipt by the customer.
- (b) Interest income - is recognized as the interest accrues taking into account the effective yield on the asset.

Cost and expenses are recognized in profit or loss upon utilization of goods or services or at the date, they are incurred.

Related Party Transactions and Relationship

Related party transactions are transfers of resources, services or obligations between the Company and its related parties, regardless of whether a price is charged.

Parties are considered to be related if one party has the ability to control the other party or exercise significant influence over the other party in making financial and operating decisions. These parties include: (a) individuals owning, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, control or are controlled by, or under common control with the Company; (b) associates; and, (c) individuals owning, directly or indirectly, an interest in the voting power of the Company that gives them significant influence over the Company and close members of the family of any such individual.

In considering each possible related party relationship, attention is directed to the substance of the relationship and not merely to the legal form.

Impairment of Assets

At each reporting date, the Company determines whether there is any indication that assets have suffered an impairment loss. If there is an indication of possible impairment, the recoverable amount of any affected asset (or group of related assets) is estimated and compared with its carrying amount. If the estimated recoverable amount is lower, the carrying amount is reduced to its estimated recoverable amount, and an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

If an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or group of related assets) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but not in excess of the amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset (group of related assets) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

Employee Benefits

The Company provides short-term benefits and post-employment benefits to employees through a defined benefit plan, as well as various defined contribution plans.

a. Short-term Benefits

Wages, salaries and bonuses are recognized as an expense in the year in which the associated services are rendered by employees. Short-term accumulating compensated absences such as paid annual leave are recognized when services are rendered by employees that increase their entitlement to future compensated absences. Short-term non-accumulating compensated absences such as sick leave are recognized when the absences occur.

b. Defined Benefit Plan

The Company has not yet established a formal post-employment plan nor accrues the estimated cost of post-employment benefits under a defined benefit plan required by the provisions of the Republic Act (R.A.) No. 7641, The Retirement Pay Law, in as much as such the estimated retirement benefits are not material to the financial statements. The Company will recognize these benefits as an expense as they fall due.

c. Defined Contribution Plan

A defined-contribution plan under which the Company pays fixed contributions to an independent entity such as Social Security System (SSS), Philhealth and Pag-ibig. The Company has no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions after payment of the fixed contribution. The contributions recognized in respect of defined contribution plans are expensed as they fall due. Liabilities and assets may be recognized if underpayment or prepayment has occurred and are included in current liabilities or current assets as they are normally of a short-term nature.

Income Tax

Tax expense represents the sum of the current tax and deferred tax. The current tax is based on taxable profit for the year and measured using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognized on differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and their corresponding tax bases (known as temporary differences). Deferred tax liabilities, with certain exceptions, are recognized for all temporary differences that are expected to increase taxable profit in the future. Deferred tax assets are recognized only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilize those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the taxable profit (tax loss) of the periods in which the Company expects the deferred tax asset to be realized or the deferred tax liability to be settled, on the basis of tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if the Company has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same entity and the same taxation authority.

Most changes in deferred tax assets or liabilities are recognized as a component of tax expense in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognized directly in equity.

The Company establishes liabilities for probable and estimable assessments by the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) resulting from any known tax exposures. Estimates represent a reasonable provision for taxes ultimately expected to be paid and may need to be adjusted over time as more information becomes available.

Equity

Capital stock represents the nominal value of shares that have been issued.

Retained earnings represent all current and prior period results of operations as reported in the profit or loss section of the statement of income.

Events after the End of the Reporting Period

Any post-year-end event that provides additional information about the Company's financial position at the end of the reporting period (adjusting event) is reflected in the financial statements. Post-year-end events that are not adjusting events, if any, are disclosed when they material to the financial statements.

CYMAC HOLDINGS, INC.
DECEMBER 31,2020

1.General Information

Cymac Holdings, Inc. was incorporated in the Philippines and was registered with the Philippines Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). The company is engaged in investments.

The registered office address and principal place of business of the company is at MTE Bldg., 2735 Zenaida St., Poblacion, Makati City.

The company financial statements as of and for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2019 were approved and authorized for issue by the Board of Directors (BOD) on April 11, 2021.

2. Basis of Preparation

Statement of Compliance

The financial statements of the company have been prepared in compliance with the Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRSs). PFRSs are based on International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB). PFRSs consist of PFRSs, Philippine Accounting Standards (PASs), and Philippine Interpretations issued by the Financial Reporting Standards Council (FRSC).

Basis of Measurement

These financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention except for retirement liability which is measured at present value of the defined benefit liability less fair value plan assets.

Functional and Presentation Currency

These financial statements are presented in Philippine peso, which is the functional and presentation currency of the company. All financial information has been rounded to the nearest centavo unless otherwise indicated.

3. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The accounting policies set out below have been applied consistently to the comparative years presented in these financial statements, and have been applied consistently by the company.

Interest Income and Expense

Interest income and expense are accrued using the effective interest method. The effective interest rate (EIR) is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments and receipts through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability to the carrying amount of the financial asset or financial liability. When calculating the EIR, the company estimates the future cash flows considering all contractual terms of the financial instrument, but not future credit losses.

The calculation of the EIR includes all fees, transportation costs, and all other discounts or premiums that are integral part of the EIR. Transaction costs are incremental costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or disposal of a financial asset or financial liability.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the company and the revenue can be reliably measured. The Company assesses its revenue arrangements to determine if it is acting as a principal or agent. The Company has concluded that it is acting as a principal on all of its revenue arrangements.

Expenses

Expenses are recognized when it is probable that the decrease in future economic benefits related to the decrease in an asset or an increase in liability has occurred and that the decrease in economic benefits can be measured reliably.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash includes cash on hand, cash in banks and cash equivalents. Cash equivalents are short term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash with original maturities of three (3) months or less from dates of placement and that are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Financial Asset

A financial asset is derecognized when:

- (a) The rights to receive cash flows from assets have expired;
- (b) The Company retains the right to receive cash flows from the asset, but has assumed an obligation to pay them in full without material delay to a third-party under a "pass-through" arrangement; or
- (c) The Company has transferred its right to receive cash flows from the asset and either:
 - (i) Has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or
 - (ii) Has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset but has transferred control of the asset.

Financial Liability

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled or has expired. Where an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability, with the difference in the respective carrying amounts recognized in the profit or loss.

Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the statements of financial position when, and only when, the Company has a legal right to set off the amounts and intend either to settle on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Income and expenses are presented on a net basis only when permitted by the accounting standards, or for gains and losses arising from a group of similar transactions.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation, amortization and impairment losses, if any.

Initially, an item of property and equipment is measured at its cost, which comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to the location and condition for its intended use. Subsequent costs that can be measured reliably are added to the carrying amount of the asset when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the asset will flow to the Company. The costs of day-to-day servicing of an asset are recognized as an expense in the period in which these are incurred.

Depreciation and amortization is calculated using the straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the property and equipment as follows:

	Number of Years
Furniture and fixtures	5
Office Equipment	5
Leasehold improvements	10
Transportation equipment	5

The useful lives and depreciation and amortization methods are reviewed at each reporting date to ensure that the period and method of depreciation and amortization are consistent with the expected pattern of economic benefits from those assets.

When an item of property and equipment is disposed of, or is permanently withdrawn from the use and no future economic benefits are expected from its disposal, the cost and accumulated depreciation, amortization and impairment losses, if any, are removed from the accounts and any resulting gain or loss arising from the retirement of disposal is reflected in profit or loss.

Investment Properties

Investment properties are land held for capital appreciation or land held for currently undetermined future use. Investment properties are measured at cost, including transaction costs. An investment property acquired through an exchange transaction is measured at fair value of the asset acquired unless the fair value of such an asset cannot be measured in which case the investment property acquired is measured at the carrying amount of the asset given up. Subsequent to initial recognition, depreciable investment properties are carried at cost less any impairment in value.

Foreclosed real estate properties are classified under investment properties on foreclosure date.

Expenditures incurred after the investment properties have been put into operations, such as repairs and maintenance costs, are normally charged against current operations in the period in which the costs are incurred.

The Company estimates the useful lives of its investment properties based on the period over which the assets are expected to be available for use. Any depreciation for these assets is calculated on a straight-line basis using the useful life of 15 years.

Investment properties are derecognized when it has either been disposed or when it is permanently withdrawn from use and no future benefit is expected from its disposal. Any gains or losses on the derecognition of an investment property are recognized in profit or loss in the year of derecognition.

Impairment of Non-financial Assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that its property and equipment, investment properties and other assets (excluding security deposits) may be impaired. When an indicator exists or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company makes an estimate of the assets recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset or cash generating units (CGUs) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or group of assets, in which case the recoverable amount is assessed as part of the CGU to which it belongs. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

An impairment loss is charged against operations in the year in which it arises, unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the impairment loss is charged against the revaluation increment of the said asset.

Equity

Capital stock is measured at par value for all shares issued and outstanding. When the shares are sold at premium, the difference between the proceeds and the par value is credited to "Additional paid-up capital" account.

Retained Earnings

Retained earnings represent accumulated profits or losses of the Company, net of dividend distributions, if any, to stockholders and other capital adjustments.

Dividends on Common Shares

Cash dividends on common shares are recognized as a liability and deducted from equity once approved by the Board of Directors. Stock dividends are recognized as addition to capital stock once approved by the BOD and stockholders. Dividends approved after the reporting date are treated as an event after the reporting date.

Foreign Currency Transactions and Translation

Foreign currency-denominated assets and liabilities are translated to Philippine peso at the prevailing Philippine Dealing & Exchange Corp. closing rate at the reporting date while foreign-currency denominated income and expenses are translated into Philippine peso based on the weighted average rate of transaction dates. Foreign exchange gains or losses arising from such transactions, including restatements of foreign-currency denominated assets and liabilities, are charged against current operations.

Leases

The determination of whether an arrangement is, or contains a lease is based on the substance of the arrangement and requires an assessment of whether the fulfillment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of a specific asset or assets and the arrangement conveys a right to use the asset. A reassessment is made after inception of the lease only if one of the following applies:

- a. there is a change in contractual terms, other than a renewal or extension of the arrangement.
- b. a renewal option is exercised or extension granted, unless that term of the renewal or extension was initially included in the lease term;
- c. there is a change in the determination of whether fulfillment is dependent on a specified asset or
- d. there is a substantial change to the asset.

Where a reassessment is made, lease accounting shall commence or cease from the date when the change in circumstances give rise to the reassessment for scenarios a, c, or d above; and at the date of renewal or extension period for scenario b.

Employee Benefits

The Company's net obligation in respect of defined benefit plan is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in the current and prior periods, discounting that amount and deducting the fair value of plan assets, if there us any.

The calculation of defined benefit obligations is performed annually by a qualified actuary using the projected unit credit method. When the calculation results in a potential asset for the company, the recognized asset is limited to the present value of economic benefits available in the form of any future refunds from the plan.

Contingent Assets and Contingent Liabilities

Contingent assets are not recognized in the statements of financial position but are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements when a inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Contingent liabilities are not recognized in the statements of financial position but are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements unless the possibility of an outflow of assets embodying economic benefits is remote.

Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share (EPS) is computed by dividing net income for the year of the Company by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year after giving retroactive effect to stock dividends declared and stock rights exercised during the year, if any. The Company does not have dilutive potential common shares.

Events After the Reporting Date

Post year-end events that provide additional information about the Company's financial position at the reporting date are reflected in the financial statements when material. Post year-end events that are not adjusting events are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements when material.

New or Revised Standards, Amendments to Standards and Interpretations

Adopted January 1, 2017

- Disclosure initiative (Amendments to PAS 7, Statement of Cash Flows).
The amendments address financial statements user's request for improved disclosures about an entity's net debt relevant to understanding an entity's cash flows. The amendments require entities to provide disclosures that enable users of financial statements to evaluate changes in liabilities arising from financing activities, including both changes arising from cash flows and non-cash changes -e.g., by providing a reconciliation between the opening and closing balances in the statement of financial position for liabilities arising from financing activities.

The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2017. Early adoption is permitted. When an entity first applies the amendments, it is not required to provide comparative information for preceding periods.

- Recognition of Deferred Tax Assets for Unrealized Losses (Amendments to PAS 12, Income Taxes). The amendments clarify that:

- * the existence of a deductible temporary difference depends solely on a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset and its tax base at the end of the reporting period, and is not affected by possible future changes in the carrying amount or expected manner of recovery of the asset;

- * the calculation of future taxable profit in evaluating whether sufficient taxable profit will be available in future periods excludes tax deductions resulting from the reversal of the deductible temporary differences;

- * the estimate of probable future taxable profit may include the recovery of some of an entity's assets for more than their carrying amount if there is sufficient evidence that it is probable that the entity will achieve this; and

- * an entity assesses a deductible temporary difference related to unrealized losses in combination with all of its other deductible temporary differences, unless a tax law restricts the utilization of losses to deduction against income of a specific type.

The amendments are to be applied retrospectively for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2017. Early adoption is permitted. On initial application, the change in the opening equity of the earliest comparative period may be recognized in opening retained earnings (or in another component of equity, as appropriate), without allocating the change between opening retained earnings and other components of equity. If an entity applies the relief, it shall disclose that fact.

To be Adopted January 1, 2018

- PFRS 9, Financial Instruments (2014). PFRS 9 (2014) replaces PAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement and supersedes the previously published versions of PFRS 9 that introduced new classifications and measurement requirements (in 2009 and 2010) and a new hedge accounting model (in 2013). PFRS 9 includes revised guidance on the classification and measurement of financial assets, including a new expected credit loss model for calculating impairment, guidance on own credit risk on financial liabilities measured at fair value and supplements the new general hedge accounting requirements published in 2013. PFRS 9 incorporates new hedge accounting requirements that represent a major overhaul of hedge accounting and introduces significant improvements by aligning the accounting more closely with risk management.

The new standard is to be applied retrospectively for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2018 with early adoption permitted.

To be Adopted January 1, 2019

- PFRS 16, Leases supersedes PAS 17, Leases and the related Philippine Interpretations. The new standard introduces a single lease accounting model for lessees under which all major leases are recognized on-balance sheet, removing the lease classification test. Lease accounting for lessors essentially remains unchanged except for a number of details including the application of the new lease definition, new sale-and-leaseback guidance, new sub-lease guidance and new disclosure requirements. Practical expedients and targeted reliefs were introduced including an optional lessee exemption for short-term leases (leases with term of 12 months or less) and low-value items as well as the permission of portfolio-level accounting instead of applying the requirements to individual leases. New estimates and judgmental thresholds that affect the identification, classification and measurement of lease transactions, as well as requirements to reassess certain key estimates and judgments at each reporting date were introduced.

PFRS 16 is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019. Earlier application is permitted for entities that apply PFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers at or before the date of initial application of PFRS 16. The company is currently assessing the potential impact of PFRS 16 and plans to adopt this new standard on leases on the required effective date.

4. Significant Accounting Judgments and Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with PFRSs requires the Company to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under circumstances, the results of which from the basis of making the judgments about carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the periods of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

In particular, information about significant areas of estimation, uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements follows.

5. Impairment of Loans and Other Receivables

The Company reviews its loans and other receivables at each reporting date to assess whether an allowance for impairment should be recognized in profit or loss. In particular, judgment by management is required in the estimation of the amount and timing of future cash flows when determining the level of allowance required. Such estimates are based on assumptions about a number of factors and actual results may differ, resulting in future changes to the allowance.

In addition to specific allowances against individually significant loans and receivables, the Company also makes a collective impairment allowance against exposure which, although not specifically identified as requiring a specific allowance, has a greater risk of default than when originally granted. This takes into consideration the length of relationship with the counterparty, credit status of the counterparty based on third party reports and historical experience.

6. Impairment of Financial Assets

At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether there is objective evidence the financial assets are impaired. A financial asset is impaired when objective evidence demonstrates that a loss event has occurred after the initial recognition of the asset, and that the loss event has an impact on the future cash flows on the asset that can be estimated reliably.

The company considers evidence of impairment at both specific asset and collective levels. All individually significant financial assets are assessed for specific impairment. All significant assets found to be specifically impaired are then collectively assessed for any impairment that has been incurred but not yet identified. Financial assets that are not individually significant are collectively assessed for impairment.

In assessing collective impairment, the company uses statistical modeling of historical trends of the probability of default, timing of recoveries and the amount of loss incurred, adjusted for management's judgment as to whether current economic and credit conditions are such that the actual losses are likely to be greater or lesser than suggested by historical modeling. Default rates, loss rates and expected timing of future recoveries are regularly benchmarked against actual outcome to ensure that these remain appropriate.

Impairment losses are recognized in profit and loss and reflected in an allowance account against loans and advances. When a subsequent event causes the amount of impairment loss to decrease, the decrease in the impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss but only to the extent that the resulting carrying amount of the asset after the reversal of impairment loss does not exceed its amortized cost at the reversal date had no impairment loss been recognized.

We have audited the financial statements of Cymac Holdings Corporation (the Company), which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2021, and the statement of income, statement of equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2021, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards for Small Entities (PFRS for SEs).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Philippine Standards on Auditing (PSA). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants in the Philippines (Code of Ethics) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the Philippines, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements, and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Matter

The financial statements of Cymac Holdings Corporation for the year ended December 31, 2020 were audited by other auditor, who expressed an unmodified opinion on those financial statements on May 27, 2021.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with PFRS for SEs, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with PSA will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with PSA, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

See Notes to Financial Statements.

Prepayment and other asset are recognized and measured at transaction costs or at the amount of cash paid. Subsequently, prepayment is charged to expense as they are consumed in operations or expire after the passage of time. Other recognized assets of similar nature, where future economic benefits are expected to flow to the Company beyond one year after the end of the reporting period or in the normal operating cycle of the business, if longer, are classified as non-current assets.

Revenue and Expense Recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that the revenue can be reliably measured; it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company; and the costs incurred or to be incurred can be measured reliably. The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognized:

- (a) Rendering of services - Revenue from rendering of services is recognized as the control transfers at the point in time with the customer. Invoices for management services are due upon receipt by the customer.
- (b) Interest income - is recognized as the interest accrues taking into account the effective yield on the asset.

Cost and expenses are recognized in profit or loss upon utilization of goods or services or at the date, they are incurred.

Related Party Transactions and Relationship

Related party transactions are transfers of resources, services or obligations between the Company and its related parties, regardless of whether a price is charged.

Parties are considered to be related if one party has the ability to control the other party or exercise significant influence over the other party in making financial and operating decisions. These parties include: (a) individuals owning, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, control or are controlled by, or under common control with the Company; (b) associates; and, (c) individuals owning, directly or indirectly, an interest in the voting power of the Company that gives them significant influence over the Company and close members of the family of any such individual.

In considering each possible related party relationship, attention is directed to the substance of the relationship and not merely to the legal form.

Impairment of Assets

At each reporting date, the Company determines whether there is any indication that assets have suffered an impairment loss. If there is an indication of possible impairment, the recoverable amount of any affected asset (or group of related assets) is estimated and compared with its carrying amount. If the estimated recoverable amount is lower, the carrying amount is reduced to its estimated recoverable amount, and an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

If an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or group of related assets) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but not in excess of the amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset (group of related assets) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

Employee Benefits

The Company provides short-term benefits and post-employment benefits to employees through a defined benefit plan, as well as various defined contribution plans.

a. Short-term Benefits

Wages, salaries and bonuses are recognized as an expense in the year in which the associated services are rendered by employees. Short-term accumulating compensated absences such as paid annual leave are recognized when services are rendered by employees that increase their entitlement to future compensated absences. Short-term non-accumulating compensated absences such as sick leave are recognized when the absences occur.

b. Defined Benefit Plan

The Company has not yet established a formal post-employment plan nor accrues the estimated cost of post-employment benefits under a defined benefit plan required by the provisions of the Republic Act (R.A.) No. 7641, The Retirement Pay Law, in as much as such the estimated retirement benefits is not material to the financial statements. The Company will recognize these benefits as an expense as they fall due.

c. Defined Contribution Plan

A defined-contribution plan under which the Company pays fixed contributions into an independent entity such as Social Security System (SSS), Philhealth and Pag-ibig. The Company has no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions after payment of the fixed contribution. The contributions recognized in respect of defined contribution plans are expensed as they fall due. Liabilities and assets may be recognized if underpayment or prepayment has occurred and are included in current liabilities or current assets as they are normally of a short-term nature.

Income Tax

Tax expense represents the sum of the current tax and deferred tax. The current tax is based on taxable profit for the year and measured using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognized on differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and their corresponding tax bases (known as temporary differences). Deferred tax liabilities, with certain exceptions, are recognized for all temporary differences that are expected to increase taxable profit in the future. Deferred tax assets are recognized only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilize those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the taxable profit (tax loss) of the periods in which the Company expects the deferred tax asset to be realized or the deferred tax liability to be settled, on the basis of tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if the Company has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same entity and the same taxation authority.

Most changes in deferred tax assets or liabilities are recognized as a component of tax expense in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognized directly in equity.

The Company establishes liabilities for probable and estimable assessments by the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) resulting from any known tax exposures. Estimates represent a reasonable provision for taxes ultimately expected to be paid and may need to be adjusted over time as more information becomes available.

Equity

Capital stock represents the nominal value of shares that have been issued.

Retained earnings represent all current and prior period results of operations as reported in the profit or loss section of the statement of income.

Events after the End of the Reporting Period

Any post-year-end event that provides additional information about the Company's financial position at the end of the reporting period (adjusting event) is reflected in the financial statements. Post-year-end events that are not adjusting events, if any, are disclosed when they material to the financial statements.

2. FIRST-TIME ADOPTION OF PHILIPPINE FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS FOR SMALL ENTITIES (PFRS for SEs)

MAR 19 2022

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The significant accounting policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are summarized below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented unless otherwise stated.

Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements

a. Statement of Compliance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standard for Small Entities (PFRS for SEs)

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with PFRS for Small Entities (PFRS for SEs). PFRS for SEs is adopted by the Financial Reporting Standards Council (FRSC) and approved by the Philippine Board of Accountancy (BOA).

The financial statements have been prepared using the measurement bases specified by PFRS for SEs for each type of assets, liabilities, income and expense. The measurement bases are more fully described in the accounting policies in the succeeding pages.

b. Presentation of Statement of Income and Statement of Changes in Equity

The Company opted to present a separate statement of income and separate statement of changes in equity even when the changes to equity during the years presented arise only from profit or loss.

c. Functional and Presentation Currency

These financial statements are presented in Philippine pesos, the Company's functional and presentation currency, and all values represent absolute amounts except when otherwise indicated.

Items included in the financial statements of the Company are measured using its functional currency. Functional currency is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates.

Cash

Cash includes cash on hand, savings and demand deposits and short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Prepayment and Other Asset

Prepayment and other asset pertains to other resources controlled by the Company as a result of past events. It is recognized in the financial statements when it is probable that the future economic benefits will flow to the Company and the asset has a cost or value that can be measured reliably.

Prepayment and other asset are recognized and measured at transaction costs or at the amount of cash paid. Subsequently, prepayment is charged to expense as they are consumed in operations or expire after the passage of time. Other recognized assets of similar nature, where future economic benefits are expected to flow to the Company beyond one year after the end of the reporting period or in the normal operating cycle of the business, if longer, are classified as non-current assets.

Investment in Shares

Investments in shares are initially measured at transaction price. These are subsequently measured at cost less impairment, unless the investments in shares are traded in an active market, which shall be measured at the lower of cost or fair value, with changes in fair value recognized in profit or loss. For shares traded in an active market, the fair value is the quoted price for those shares in that active market.

Dividend income from investments in shares is recognized when the Company's right to receive payment has been established. It is included in Other Income in the statements of income.

Payables

Payables are recognized initially at the transaction price and subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

Payables are classified as current liabilities when these are expected to be paid within 12 months after the end of the financial reporting period or the Company has no unconditional right to defer settlement for at 12 months at the end of the financial reporting period.

Payables are derecognized from the statement of financial position only when the obligations are extinguished either through discharge, cancellation or expiration.

Provisions and Contingencies

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation, either legal or constructive, as a result of a past event, it is probable that a transfer of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and the amount can be reliably estimated.

Provisions are measured at the present value of the amount expected to be required to settle the obligation using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the obligation. The increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as an interest expense.

In those cases where the possible outflow of economic resources as a result of present obligations is considered improbable or remote, or the amount to be provided for cannot be measured reliably, no liability is recognized in the financial statements. Similarly, possible inflows of economic benefits to the Company that does not yet meet the recognition criteria of an asset are considered contingent assets, hence, are not recognized in the financial statements. On the other hand, any reimbursement that the Company can be virtually certain to collect from a third party with respect to the obligation is recognized as a separate asset not exceeding the amount of the related provision.

Revenue and Expense Recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that the revenue can be reliably measured; it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company; and the costs incurred or to be incurred can be measured reliably. The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognized:

- (a) Rendering of services - Revenue from rendering of services is recognized as the control transfers at the point in time with the customer. Invoices for management services are due upon receipt by the customer.
- (b) Interest income - is recognized as the interest accrues taking into account the effective yield on the asset.

Cost and expenses are recognized in profit or loss upon utilization of goods or services or at the date, they are incurred.

Related Party Transactions and Relationship

Related party transactions are transfers of resources, services or obligations between the Company and its related parties, regardless of whether a price is charged.

Parties are considered to be related if one party has the ability to control the other party or exercise significant influence over the other party in making financial and operating decisions. These parties include: (a) individuals owning, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, control or are controlled by, or under common control with the Company; (b) associates; and, (c) individuals owning, directly or indirectly, an interest in the voting power of the Company that gives them significant influence over the Company and close members of the family of any such individual.

In considering each possible related party relationship, attention is directed to the substance of the relationship and not merely to the legal form.

Impairment of Assets

At each reporting date, the Company determines whether there is any indication that assets have suffered an impairment loss. If there is an indication of possible impairment, the recoverable amount of any affected asset (or group of related assets) is estimated and compared with its carrying amount. If the estimated recoverable amount is lower, the carrying amount is reduced to its estimated recoverable amount, and an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

If an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or group of related assets) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but not in excess of the amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset (group of related assets) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

Employee Benefits

The Company provides short-term benefits and post-employment benefits to employees through a defined benefit plan, as well as various defined contribution plans.

a. Short-term Benefits

Wages, salaries and bonuses are recognized as an expense in the year in which the associated services are rendered by employees. Short-term accumulating compensated absences such as paid annual leave are recognized when services are rendered by employees that increase their entitlement to future compensated absences. Short-term non-accumulating compensated absences such as sick leave are recognized when the absences occur.

b. Defined Benefit Plan

The Company has not yet established a formal post-employment plan nor accrues the estimated cost of post-employment benefits under a defined benefit plan required by the provisions of the Republic Act (R.A.) No. 7641, The Retirement Pay Law, in as much as such the estimated retirement benefits is not material to the financial statements. The Company will recognize these benefits as an expense as they fall due.

c. Defined Contribution Plan

A defined-contribution plan under which the Company pays fixed contributions into an independent entity such as Social Security System (SSS), Philhealth and Pag-ibig. The Company has no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions after payment of the fixed contribution. The contributions recognized in respect of defined contribution plans are expensed as they fall due. Liabilities and assets may be recognized if underpayment or prepayment has occurred and are included in current liabilities or current assets as they are normally of a short-term nature.

Income Tax

Tax expense represents the sum of the current tax and deferred tax. The current tax is based on taxable profit for the year and measured using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognized on differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and their corresponding tax bases (known as temporary differences). Deferred tax liabilities, with certain exceptions, are recognized for all temporary differences that are expected to increase taxable profit in the future. Deferred tax assets are recognized only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilize those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the taxable profit (tax loss) of the periods in which the Company expects the deferred tax asset to be realized or the deferred tax liability to be settled, on the basis of tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if the Company has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same entity and the same taxation authority.

Most changes in deferred tax assets or liabilities are recognized as a component of tax expense in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognized directly in equity.

The Company establishes liabilities for probable and estimable assessments by the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) resulting from any known tax exposures. Estimates represent a reasonable provision for taxes ultimately expected to be paid and may need to be adjusted over time as more information becomes available.

Equity

Capital stock represents the nominal value of shares that have been issued.

Retained earnings represent all current and prior period results of operations as reported in the profit or loss section of the statement of income.

Events after the End of the Reporting Period

Any post-year-end event that provides additional information about the Company's financial position at the end of the reporting period (adjusting event) is reflected in the financial statements. Post-year-end events that are not adjusting events, if any, are disclosed when they material to the financial statements.
